Slowing to the end -----

29 3. The Attention Deficit Cockroach

Lots of air & a light tongue!

35

Keep that air gushing!

Light tongue!

41

Pop those valves down!

47

You know what to do.

Although they were close friends, as close as three friends could be, they didn't always see eye to eye on everything that came their way. Spider was usually busy with her web. Lobster, as a general rule, felt quite melancholy. And Cockroach was hard to keep up with, finding something of interest around each corner and under every stone. But the day that the Great Fire came, they were all three united in purpose and action. That day would change their lives forever...
